Contextualisation

Tourism programs and projects are designed to reach certain goals. Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) can help organizations to understand whether such programs and projects actually work, as well as the level and nature of the impacts they generate. This course will provide an overview of the different approaches available to monitor and evaluate tourism projects in the context of a Results-Based Management (RBM). RBM and M&E are essential components of the governance structure because they provide critical information and empower decision-makers to make better-informed decisions.

Requirements

There are no requirements for taking this course.

Skills

Specific

- * CE1 – To develop capacity of analysis of tourism as a complex system that integrates multiple components that can be monitored and evaluated (supply, demand, labour market, landscape and natural environment, institutional framework, etc.), as well as their existing relationships.
- * CE4 – To be able to contribute to the planning, monitoring and evaluation of policies, programmes and projects oriented towards the improvement of the competitiveness and sustainability of a tourism company, destination or region.

Teaching guide	A
Language	English

Modality	Name	Typ. Grp.	Description	Hours
Theory classes	Theoretical Lessons	Large group (G)	The theoretical foundations that students must acquire during the course will be presented in these classes. The theoretical lessons will follow the program presented above.	10
Practical classes	Practical Lessons	Large group (G)	The practical lessons are intended to encourage the exchange of views between participants and to facilitate the use of theoretical knowledge into reality through the study and discussion of papers and case studies.	6
Assessment	Final exam	Large group (G)	Final exam to evaluate the acquired knowledge.	2

At the beginning of the semester a schedule of the subject will be made available to students through the UIBdigital platform. The schedule shall at least include the dates when the continuing assessment tests will be conducted and the hand-in dates for the assignments. In addition, the lecturer shall inform students as to whether the subject work plan will be carried out through the schedule or through another way included in the Campus Extens platform.

Distance education work activities

Modality	Name	Description	Hours
Individual self-study	Individual study time	Individual study to acquire the contents developed in the course.	40
Group self-study	Group study time	Study in group to acquire the contents developed in the course.	17

Specific risks and protective measures

The learning activities of this course do not entail specific health or safety risks for the students and therefore no special protective measures are needed.

Student learning assessment

The final mark will be calculated following the percentages shown below. However, a minimum mark of at least 4 points (over 10) is required in the final exam to pass the course. In addition, students are required to attend, at least, 80% of classes to pass the subject.
